De-reserve constituencies with substantial Muslim influence

Appoint the next Delimitation Commission with clear time-bound mandate to remove these anomalies.

‘Why not delimitation commission?’

On a day when the PM gave the go-ahead for the 7th pay commission, Muslim leaders demanded a Delimitation Commission, as suggested by the Sachar Committee, to take a relook at assembly constituencies with high Muslim population reserved for SC candidates. The Sachar Committee had noted that the matter was in the purview of the Delimitation Commission. On September 16, when Muslim leaders met the PM about the communal violence in Muzaffarnagar, Zakat Foundation of India’s president Syed Zafar Mahmood had reminded Manmohan Singh about the anomaly. “The PM told us that in view of the upcoming election how can a delimitation commission be appointed now?” said Mahmood.

De-reserve Muslim predominant constituencies

Verily,
with every difficulty there is relief
With the help of indefatigable documentation prepared by ZFI it forced the Election Commission to change its decision to reserve Saharanpur Constituency.
For the 2017 MCD Elections, ZFI has served upon the Delhi Election Commissioner a 10-page advance notice asking him to delimit the Wards as required by law and remove the anomalies otherwise, if it doesn't do that, ZFI will go to the court.

NEW DELHI: The rising number of candidates from minority communities cracking civil services exam has given hopes to other aspirants eyeing the most coveted government job. Helping them chase their dreams is the Zakat Foundation India (ZFI), which was established in 1997, that funds for their coaching.

Every year 35-40 candidates between the age of 22 and 27 are shortlisted for the fellowship. As soon as the Union Public Service Commission (UPSC) results were declared for the 2015 batch, where 17 students supported by the foundation featured on the list, it received numerous calls from aspirants seeking their help. For the 2016 examinations, the ZFI has established four centres Srinagar, Kerala, Kolkata and Delhi to conduct the test to shortlist candidates eligible for funding. The last exam for free coaching is scheduled to be held on June 21.

number is likely to rise further. “Most of the people drop their plans to appear in civil services exam because of financial problems. The foundation has helped many students crack the country’s most prestigious exam. Even those who are financially sound are applying for it now.”

said Mohammad Ashraf Mir, who has applied for coaching this year.

“Most of the people drop their plans to appear in civil services exam because of financial problems. The foundation has helped many students crack the country’s most prestigious exam. Even those who are financially sound are applying for it now.” said Mohammad Ashraf Mir, who has applied for coaching this year.

During its eight years long journey, it has produced many successful stories, where candidates from different backgrounds have excelled in the exam. So far around 76 candidates including 5 Muslims and eight Christians have cracked the exam with the help of its funding.

Shah Faesal, the first Kashmiri to top civil services in 2009 was also a ZFI fellow. It also helped students crack civil services in 1883 and founded Mohmmadan Civil Services Fund Association which had 500 members. All the members donated two rupees each annually to send 15 students to England for Indian Civil Service (ICS) exam, said Syed Zafar Mahmood, founder of ZFI.

“Every year we receive around 1,100 applications for the fellowship. It is challenging to ensure 100% of tuition fee is paid. Earlier, we used to fund 100% fee but due to some reasons we curtailed it by 10%,” said Syed.

“Without the help of the foundation, it would have been impossible to crack the civil services. I hope to help the academy in whichever way possible so that they can help others,” Dr Bilawal Sheikh Chowdhary, one of the 17 candidates from the 2015 batch.
Zakat’s 17 aspirants make it to final list

It was a day of fireworks at New Delhi’s Mukherjee Nagar-based Zakat Foundation — an organisation devoted to increasing the number of civil servants in India, whose 17 candidates made to the final list of civil services exam on Tuesday. The organisation, which selects candidates for coaching after an exam conducted at centres situated in areas of concentration of Muslim population, had coached a total of 35 candidates. Significantly, 16 of its students had also cleared the prestigious exam last year. The organisation’s founder, Zafar Mahmood, said, “Sufficient number of Muslims are not appearing for civil services exam after a well-directed training. The effort needs to be made by sincere community members and well-wishers.”

Aligarh: It was a day of fireworks at New Delhi's Mukherjee Nagar-based Zakat Foundation - an organization devoted to increasing the number of civil servants in India, whose 17 candidates made to the final list of civil services examination on Tuesday. The organization, which selects candidates for coaching after an exam conducted at centres situated in areas of concentration of Muslim population, had coached a total of 35 candidates. Significantly, 16 of its students had also cleared the prestigious exam even last year.

The candidates who cleared the exam this year include Farha Husain from Rajasthan, Mohd Arshad from Jharkhand, Ansar Ahmad Shaikh from Maharashtra, Minhajuddin Nizami, Ashar Ahmad, Arish Bilal from Uttar Pradesh, Anna Sosa, Benson Samuel, Dr Ibson Shah and Ashif Anakarth from Kerala, Asim Anwer from Karnataka, Syed Junaid Adil, Dr Bashit Qayoom, Dr Bilalwal Shafeeq Chowdhury, Shakil Ahmad Ghani, and Deeba Farhat from Jammu and Kashmir and Hussain Mehedi Rahman from West Bengal.

The organiation's founder, Zafar Mahmood, who was in Aligarh to encourage and inspire AMU students to prepare for civil services exam, told TOI, "Political representation of Muslims is very low because constituencies of Muslim majority areas are mostly reserved for SC/ST candidates. The Sachar Committee had asked for referring this anomaly to the Delimitation Commission. Similarly, sufficient number of Muslims are not appearing for civil services exam after a well-directed training. The effort needs to be made by sincere community leaders and well-wishers."

that the potential of people in these regions is very good. Then a test is held in Delhi for the Muslim aspirants from the rest of India. After the results are out, good performers are taken in and are provided with residential as well as coaching facilities in New Delhi's Mukherjee Nagar. A monthly report card of each candidate is maintained to track his or her performance."

Since Independence, there have been just four Muslim toppers of civil services exam and one of them, Shah Faesal from Kashmir who topped the exam in 2009, was coached by this foundation.

According to Mahmood, a lack of information and confidence in the system has led to disinterest of Indian Muslims in the civil services exam. "Ever since I joined the services in 1977, I made it a point to visit AMU, Jamia Millia Islamia and other minority institutes to encourage Muslim students for taking the exam. I met students and encouraged them to become part of the policymaking system and governance," he said.

There is nothing that can compensate merit, confidence and honesty of a student when it comes to cracking examinations. Kashmiri youth have a lot of talent. All they need is a proper guidance and exposure. It is time we stand up and tell the world that we can make it to elite civil services. Dr Shah Faesal, the young Kashmiri doctor to have topped the IAS examination this year, talks about his journey to Civil Services, motivating factors, suggestions for the JK youth, and much more in an interview with Greater Kashmir correspondent, Faheem Aslam.
